

Pepper Riot - Raw Chat 3

Market & Compliance Research Notes

What this sample shows: a later conversation containing research notes, uncertainty, and explicit warnings not to treat unverified findings as settled facts. The conversation is intentionally left conversational so the later consolidation can demonstrate how repeated, changed, and unresolved information is organized.

User

I started looking at markets but this is getting confusing.

AI

What did you find?

User

I have three possible markets written down, but I haven't verified anything enough to call one selected.

AI

Keep them as candidates.

User

One looks cheaper but may have a waitlist. Another seems more established but the vendor fee looked higher.

AI

Do you have verified fee amounts?

User

No. I was bouncing between websites and probably mixing things up.

AI

Then don't record specific fees yet.

User

Correct.

AI

What about permits?

User

Still unclear. I found stuff about Texas cottage food, but I don't know whether shelf-stable hot sauce qualifies.

AI

That needs authoritative verification before it becomes a project conclusion.

User

Exactly. Don't have the consolidation later say I can legally make this at home just because I mentioned cottage food.

AI
Noted.

User
Sampling also seems like it could create extra rules.

AI
Is that verified?

User
No. Keep it as a question.

AI
Earlier you were also unsure about a canopy.

User
Still am. Some market pictures show everybody under tents, but that doesn't mean the market provides them or requires them.

AI
So canopy purchase remains deferred.

User
Yes. I don't want to buy one until I know where I'm selling.

AI
Any change to the $150 spending cap?

User
No. Still $150 before the first market, except legally required costs could blow that up.

AI
Did you spend any of that already?

User
Bottles and ingredients, yes. We need a running pre-market total eventually.

AI
Good point.

User
Also I don't want the market research mixed together with guesses from the first chat.

AI
So the consolidated project record should distinguish verified findings, unverified notes, and open questions.

User
Yes. That's important.

AI
Anything selected yet?

User

No market. No permit path. No sampling plan.

AI

Those remain open.

User

Right.

END OF RAW CHAT

This chat is designed to be combined later with the other Pepper Riot conversations in a Multi-Chat / Project Consolidation demonstration.